

Registration Opens Today! January / 2009

Register Now for the largest IBM i (AS/400, iSeries, System i) educational event in the Northeast! It's time to visit www.neugc.org to check out the incredible line-up of sessions and speakers and register to attend the 2009 Northeast User Groups Conference. This year's event will take place April 6 through 8 at our traditional venue, The Sheraton Hotel in Framingham, MA.

We're holding the line on our conference fees to give you two+ days of affordable, quality education close to home. NEUGC 2009 features a packed session schedule with hands-on lab workshops and in-depth seminars on Monday and more than 100 sessions and five tracks that focus on:

- Programming Tools and Languages (RPG, SQL, Java, PHP, RDi, EGL),
- Database (including SQL and DB2 Web Query),
- Systems Management (security, upgrades, performance tuning, backup/recovery, etc.),
- Web Development (including Web services, PHP, and Java), and
- Management/Professional Development

With all these rich offerings, NEUGC is easily your best training value for 2009!

Please note that our popular Monday Hands-on Lab Workshops are each limited to 24 participants:

- Introduction to PHP - Presenter: Jon Paris, Partner400 and System i Developer Consortium
- IBM DB2 Web Query for i - Presenter: Gene Cobb, IBM

Monday In-Depth Seminars are also available for these excellent topics:

- Tuning SQL for Optimal Performance - Presenter: Kent Milligan, IBM
- Building a Web Application on i - A Real World Example
Presenter: Paul Tuohy, ComCon and System i Developer Consortium

Lots of Reasons to Attend

Enjoy two full days of breakout sessions that will help you meet the day-to-day challenges of your job.

Your $500 conference fee covers two days of classes, all meals, breaks, and session handouts. Learn how to make your IT department more efficient and acquire new skills to extend your IBM i expertise. Hands-on labs and in-depth seminars are available on Monday for an additional fee.

Network with your peers and speakers

New for 2009: This year, in lieu of a traditional keynote address, we are offering a fun evening and a great networking opportunity on Tuesday: a festive buffet and casino night! Relax, have fun, and exchange ideas with your friends, colleagues, and IBM experts after a long day in class.

Vendor Expo

Be sure to set some time aside to visit the Vendor Expo, which will feature more than 20 companies this year. You can view the list of vendors on our website at www.neugc.org/viewvendors.cfm
